COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY July 7, 1920.

NUMBER 36

OIL NEWS.

[By E. T. Kemper]

The Palmer Oil & Gas Company have leased quarters in the Page Building where they will establish their general offices just as soon as furniture, which is now on the way here from Cleveland, Ohio, arrives. The president, Mr. Geo. H. Palmer, who has been in town for several days past, advises that they have drilling machinery on the way from West Va. points, and it is expected to arrive at an early date.

Mr. Bee Whitis, field manager of the J. E. Carahan Oil Company, and who is one of the busiest men to be found anywhere, was here last week on a short trip and left for Lincoln county. While here Mr. Whitis expressed himself as being pleased with the progress of the drilling at Zion's Church, and he is confident they will make a good strike when they reach the second sand. They are now down something like 400 feet, and are going thru a very fine and regular formation.

At a depth of something near 300 feet the Roy Petroleum Company drilling on Damron's Creek have a good showing of oil. They have encountered a strong flow of salt water which is giving them a lot of trouble, but they hope to have it over soon. Expert oil men who have been in that locality lately predict there is oil to be found there in paying quantities, and it is to be hoped such enterprising people as the Roy Company may be successful in the very near future in making a good "strike."

Reliable information is at hand that a goodly number of leases are changing hands in the Creelsboro field, and while no figures are given out for publication still it is not out of place to state that satisfactory prices are being realized, and the indications are that some of the big operators will begin development work there at no distant date. Rentals are being paid promptly and an annual interest in the territory is being shown by the oil fraternity generally.

There are always to be found in every locality a number of "doubting Thomases" who are ready and eager to give vent to their valuable (?) opinions regarding any and all development work being prosecuted in the vicinity where they reside, and the oil business, which is one of the largest and most important in the world, is now getting more than its share of unjust criticism on all sides. If you have no faith in the proposition, and there are other people in your midst who have and are spending their money in "boosting" the business, thereby benefitting the community in general, why not lay aside your little hammer for a season and quit "knocking" (?) One "booster" is more beneficial to a community than all the "knockers" past, present and future.

Mr. G. A. Roy, president of the Roy Petroleum Company, who has been spending several days in this locality looking after the affairs of the Company, left Thursday for Lexington and other points, but with the promise to return at an early date. While here Mr. Roy devoted a great deal of time in looking over and checking up their large acreage located in Adair and Russell counties, and he not only expressed satisfaction over present conditions but he also made strong predictions as to the oil future of this section.

In a private letter just received from Mr. W. F. Coast, the well-known operator with headquarters at Cincinnati, he states that he expects to begin drilling at Creelsboro as soon as machinery and equipment can be gotten on the ground. Mr. Coast has associated with him Olean N. Y., capitalists who are ready and anxious to assist in developing this territory, and as they control some valuable acreage, well located near production, they have every reason to believe their efforts will prove profitable. Mr. Lilburn Phelps, president of the McMead Oil Company, was in town the latter part of last week looking after business connected with the Company, and while here he talked very optimistically regarding the present condition of the Company's affairs, and of its prospects. Well No. 3 on Campbell Bros. farm has been flowing for several days past, and work on No. 4 is progressing nicely. Active preparations are going forward in the way of installing additional equipment sufficient to take care of the production, and it is confidently expected they will be marketing oil at an early date. This is a move in the right direction, and it is very encouraging to the stockholders.

Recall of a Diamond.

There are a number of persons, now living in Columbia, who remember that in May, 1889, a diamond was found, in the sand, on Cabbin Fork, near Montpelier, this county. For days and weeks the find created a bit of excitement, and many believed that a diamond field was here in our midst. In order to prove that the stone was genuine, it was sent to Mr. Schultz, of Louisville, who inspected it and pronounced it a valuable stone. (Not relying altogether upon his judgment, he sent it to Tiffany, of New York, well-known over the United States as a dealer, and he soon reported that there was no doubt but it was a genuine diamond.

Upon hearing from Mr. Tiffany, Mr. Schultz left his business in Louisville, came to Columbia, and from here he went to Cabbin Fork where the diamond was found. The writer met Mr. Schultz while here and talked with him about the discovery. At that time he said that he did not know what would be done, but he advised the organization of a company, lease the land and continue the hunt on a large scale. For some reason no steps were taken for development, and the interest soon died out.

The diamond found was sold to Tiffany, who had it dressed and it was on exhibition at the World's Fair in Chicago, in Tiffany's display, and it was marked "found in Adair county, Kentucky."

While the oil industry is now on in Adair county, would it not be a capital idea to lease the land where this diamond was found, organize a company and start a crew to sieving sand. Mr. J. O. Russell, the well-known merchant of this place, who was at the Chicago World's Fair, says there is no doubt but Mr. Tiffany had the Adair county diamond on exhibition.

EVERYBODY,

Should Attend Chautauqua, Begins Friday.

Come along next Friday, July 9th, to the White & Myers Chautauqua tent at the Graded School grounds. Plenty of comfortable seats, and if there is a breeze to be found anywhere it will be felt on the school heights. If you live in Columbia or its vicinity don't fail to come to the Chautauqua and enjoy the entire program which is extended from July 9th to the 14th, inclusive, six days beginning at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock at night, daily. It will be of great benefit to you personally as you will be privileged to hear some of the ablest speakers, men with nation wide experience and renown, and not only will you hear lectures, but you will also be greatly entertained with high-class music, elocution, impersonations and other features that will have a part in making this Chautauqua season pleasant and uplifting to the entire community. Fathers and mothers send your children to the Chautauqua, they will see and hear things that will be of great aid to them in their future life problem. Don't fail to come yourselves, for by so doing you will come in touch with the big world around you, perhaps you will learn something about others, which you never knew before. In fact, what would life be worth if it wasn't for the privilege we have in learning about or doing something for others?

The local people who are giving their time and money to make the Chautauqua possible for the community should be able supported in their efforts, for the guarantors have pledged themselves to pay the sum of $950 for season tickets, and the way to show your appreciation for what they are doing is for everyone to come forward and do their part by buying tickets AT ONCE. Just think of twelve select entertainments for the small sum of $2.20, war tax included; a fraction over eighteen cents each. Where else can you secure any such entertainment for the money? Will you support the proposition?

Now, don't say it is too hot or you can't afford to spend the money. These are not valid excuses, and you owe it to yourselves, your families and to the community generally to support the proposition in every possible way, so come on and meet and hear the people who are bringing us messages from other parts of the world, and let us all plan together how we can better the conditions of our town that it may grow commercially and that it may become a better place in which to live. Don't forget the date.

A Chautauqua is elevating, and no one should fail to attend. It opens Friday, July 9 and will continue six days. Save money and buy a season ticket.

A Home Coming.

There will be no fair in Columbia this year, hence there will be no gathering of friends for a few days enjoyment, unless an arrangement should be made for the coming together of the people. If you will remember that in June, 1906, we had a home coming, and former residents of the county were here from many states and there was a joyous time for every body. Would it not be a good idea to fix a date for another coming together? There are many people who have not been in the county of their nativity for many years, and a home coming would land hundreds in the county who have not been here for a great many years. The last of August or the first of September would be a fine date. It could be had at the Fair grounds every body bringing baskets, speakers appointed, and many would volunteer to tell in short addresses of their wanderings since they left their old homestead. We cannot think of anything that would bring so much happiness to the people who long to see the boys and girls of long ago.

"Take a sea gull from its home on the sea,
Wherever it goes 't will sing
of the sea;
Take a fond heart from its home by the hearth,
It will sing of the loved ones to the end of the earth.
We merely offer this as a suggestion, and if it meets with approval the columns of the News are open for suggestions. The cost to any one individual would be light, and the enjoyment would more than compensate.

The star routes leading from Columbia to various points now have new contractors. The new contracts went into effect the first day of July. Mr. N. M. Tutt and Mr. John Lee Walker, who had contracts, are now out and they feel greatly relieved. Mr. Joe Barnes who formerly had the Jamestown route, surrendered to Mr. Aarons and Mr. Barnes took charge of the Tarter route. A Cumberland county man was given the route from here to Burksville, but he subletted the distance from Columbia to Breeding to a Mr. Wheeler who contracted with one of the Strange boys to carry Adair end.

A gentleman from one of the Western States attended the home coming here in June, 1906. He was 72 years old and he stated that he learned from his parents that he was born in the little brick, in the east corner of the square. Seeing that there was to be an Adair County Home Coming, he had arrived for no other purpose but to see the house in which he was born, having left here with his parents when he was six months old. We have forgotten his name, but he was a lawyer by profession and made a fine speech at the Fair Grounds.

It is about time some "pep" was being injected into the Congressional race in this district. There are four announced Democratic candidates for the nomination, but interest is on the wane. Here in Columbia the Democrats have expressed their choice and will vote accordingly, still there is no enthusiasm. In order to get the vote out, friends will have to get busy. It is only about one month until the election.

The Chautauqua will open next Friday if you want to be entertained purchase a season ticket.

Eureka.

Last Thursday morning we received a call from Mr. E. H. Hughes, cashier of the First National Bank, telling us to report at his place of business at once. We went immediately, finding Mr. Hughes in a high state of excitement. He was holding in his hand two pieces of mineral which he said that he had just received from Judge Jo N. Conover, of Monticello through the courtesy of Mr. John D. Lowe. One of the samples was a piece of oil bearing sand which Judge Conover had found near Mill Springs. It was highly flavored with petroleum. The other sample was a dark colored stone, spangles of something very much like silver all through it. This also was found in a secluded place by Judge Conover, in Wayne county, and he has not divulged the place where he found it. It is probably a rich find, and Mr. Hughes and Judge Conover's many other Adair county friends are saying Eureka! for their former Adair county friend.

Twelve good men make up the grand jury, and if they are industrious they will find plenty to keep them busy.

AWARD $125,000 IN BINGHAM CASE

Special Attorneys Get Fee Sued for in Victory Over Gov. Morrow.

A jury in the County Court returned a verdict for $125,000 for Hite H. Huffaker, Robert G. Gordon and James Garnett, who asked that sum, subject to a credit of $10,000 paid as retainer, for their services as special counsel to the State, under contract with former Gov. Stanley in the Bingham inheritance tax case, before they were discharged by Gov. Morrow.

The finding was a victory for the attorneys in another way, too, in that Judge William Krieger had instructed the jury to find for the Commonwealth if they believed from the evidence that counsel were "discharged by the Governor for cause."

The defense was conducted by Charles J. Dawson, Attorney General at the direction of Gov. Morrow, who testified that he believed $30,000 to $35,000 a reasonable fee. Mr. Dawson said that the State would appeal.
William J. Baird was foreman of the jury. The other members were A. V. Thomson, J. C. Haro, Thomas S. Dugan, Charles Trueheart and George L. Danforth.—Evening Post.

INDICTS OWN PARTY'S RECORD.

It would be difficult to imagine a more scathing indictment of the present Republican-controlled Congress than that uttered by one of its own leaders, Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, former Republican floor leader in the House. Speaking on the floor of the House recently, Mr. Mann said:

"Congress has been in almost continuous session for almost a year. The Republican side has a reasonably large majority. If we say to the country, as we will say if this rule passes, that the Republican majority in a year's time has been unable to bring in legislation and perfect it where it is subject to amendment, it acknowledges its impotency and its incapacity. It will be called to the attention of your constituents on every stump that the Republican party has not enacted much reconstructive legislation, and it will be told in addition that the Republican majority of the House was afraid to enact legislation under the ordinary rules and was incapacitated from following the ordinary practice."

Mr. Mann was denouncing the rules and was incapacitated from following the ordinary practice."

Mr. Mann was denouncing the rule prohibiting amendments to and limiting debate on the bonus bill, a bill intended to raise a billion and half dollars. The "steering committee" had ordered the bill O. K.'d, for it to be passed, or no bill at all, and both Democrats and Republicans denounced the rule because it forbade them the opportunity of even offering amendments to remove objectionable taxation features. Minority members desired to amend the bill to raise the bonus money by taxing war profits, but the "steering committee" had ordered the tax passed to the consumer.

"The rule having been adopted, we have Mr. Mann's word for it that the Republican party 'acknowledges its impotency and incapacity.'"

A Poor Selection.

There is one thing upon which we think the country will all agree, that the republican candidate for president fits the platforms adopted at Chicago. The platform is the weakest that was ever announced by a great party. Warren G. Harding as the nominee is thoroughly disappointing to the rank and file of the party throughout the nation. There is grumbling among republicans everywhere. Senator Harding is the most extreme stand patter in the nation. He is the boldest opposition to what the Bull Moose party fought for that the Republican party could have selected. In fact, he as the nominee, is the product of the 'Old Guard', a machine selected candidate. With such a leader upon such a platform the Democrats take courage. The democratic party has not had before such an opportunity. We have not approached a National convention to select a candidate for the Presidency with more odds in our favor than now. The platform on the greatest issue of hour, the League of Nations, the republicans were lacking in courage to oppose it, and were too partisan to indorse it, because a democratic president had a prominent part in working out the wonderful document. The voters of this nation, republicans as well as democrats are for the League of Nations and the Republicans are going to have some trouble in satisfying the voters with that candidate and that platform.

What One Man Found.

On the flyleaf of D.L. Moody's Bible were found these words: "This Book contains the mind of God, the state of man, the way of life, the doom of sinners, the happiness of believers. Read it to be wise. Believe it to be safe. Practice it to be holy."

"It gives light to direct you, food to supply you, and comfort to cheer you."

"It is the traveler's map, the soldier's sword, the christian's heart."

"Here praise is restored, heaven is opened and the gates of hell described. Christ is the Theme. Our good is its design, and the glory of God its end."

"It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide the feet. Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully."

"It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory, a river of pleasure."

"It is given us in life, will be open in judgment, and be remembered forever."

Although 10,000 critics have seen and eulogized this production and ten millions of people have laughed and cried with "Peg," never before has this international laughing success been presented on any Chautauqua circuit. Do you see the wonderful opportunity given our people to enjoy the attraction that scored a two-year success at the Cort Theater in New York City? GIFTED SINGER COMING.

GIFTED SINGER COMING. Jane MacConnell, contralto, comes to our Chautauqua as a member of the Metropolitan Opera Quintet. Glen Dillard Gunn in the Chicago Tribune says of her: "Possesses a contralto voice which in warmth, richness and sympathy, as well as in ease of production and certainty of method, is unusual." Racine, Wisconsin, "Completely captivated her audience. Proved herself an artist of wonderful ability." She holds one of the highest salaried church positions in Chicago.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce RALPH GILBERT, of Shelby county, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this, the Eighth Congressional District of Kentucky. State Primary Election Saturday, August 7, 1920.

We are authorized to announce FRANK L. RIPPY, of Anderson County, a Democratic candidate for Congress, in the Eighth district, subject to the action of the State primary August 7, 1920.

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Richard P. Ernst, of Kenton county, a Republican candidate for U. S. Senator. Primary first Saturday in August.

Afternoon papers were not printed in Louisville Monday, hence a report of the doings at San Francisco can not be given in The News. We learn over the wire that a nomination was not made Monday night, but McAdoo was in the lead. Later, Cox nominated on the 44th ballot.

There will be no primary for the United States Senate. Mr. Z. T. Proctor, of Litchfield, who announced as a Republican candidate in opposition to R. P. Ernest, has withdrawn from the race, leaving Judge Ernest as the only Republican candidate, and he will be declared the nominee. Senator Beckham has no opposition from the Democrats.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM.
(From Homer S. Cummings' speech.)

"If the Democratic Party had accomplished nothing more than the passage of the Federal Reserve Act, it would be entitled to the enduring gratitude of the nation. This act supplied the country with an elastic currency controlled by the American people. Panics—the recurring phenomena of disaster which the Republican party could neither control nor explain—are now but a memory. Under the Republican system there was an average of one bank failure every twenty-one days for a period of nearly forty years. After the passage of the Federal Reserve System there were, in 1915, four bank failures; in 1916 and 1917, three bank failures; in 1918, one bank failure; and in 1919, no bank failures at all. The Federal Reserve System, passed over the opposition of the leaders of the Republican party enabled America to withstand the strain of war without shock or panic and ultimately made our country the greatest creditor nation of the world."

SALIENT FEATURES IN PLATFORM.

The Democratic platform, as submitted to the National Convention today—

Hails with patriotic pride the great achievements for country and the world wrought by a Democratic Administration under Woodrow Wilson's leadership.

Favors League of Nations as surest, if not only practicable, means of maintaining the peace of the world and "advocates immediate ratification of the treaty without reservations which would impair its essential integrity, but do not oppose acceptance of and reservations making clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the League of Nations."

Praises Administration's conduct of the war invitation of President to Republicans to aid and counsel and pays tribute to Pershing's genius.

Reviews great record of eight years under President Wilson and points out achievements of Federal Reserve Act and the financing of the war.

Condemns failure of Congress to respond to demands of President and country to revise existing tax laws.

Points out false economies of Republican Congress.

Says Republicans' failure to restore peace conditions is principal cause of post-armistice inflation, and says high cost of living can be only remedied by increased production, governmental economy and legislation against profiteers.

Reaffirms traditional policy of Henry Watterson of "Tariff for Revenue Only."

Favors creation of effective budget system, and condemns Republican Senate for failure to pass amended bill which would have provided system.

Demands alteration of Senate rules to permit prompt transaction of nation's legislative business.

Points out Federal Farm Loan Act, Smith-Lever Agricultural Extension Act, Bureau of Markets, Bureau of Farm Management, Cotton Futures Act, Grain Grades Bill, Co-operative Farm Administration Act and Federal Warehouse Act among things done by party for rural population.

Recalls to labor that the party established the Department of Labor.

Upholds right of organization and collective bargaining, but says no class should at any time take steps which would put in jeopardy the public welfare, and opposes compulsory arbitration.

Indorses proposed woman suffrage amendment and urges Democratic Governors of Tennessee, North Carolina and Florida to unite in an effort to complete the process of ratification.

Urges co-operation with the States for the protection of child life through infancy and maternity care, in prohibition of child labor and by adequate appropriations for children's and women's bureaus in the Department of Labor.

Advocates various reforms affecting women in industry.

Points to establishment by Democratic Administration of War Risk Insurance Bureau, goes on record for richest bounty for disabled service men and dependents of those who died in the service.

Pledges party to enactment of soldier settlements and home aid legislation.

Urges fair and complete test of Esch-Cummins' law until mature action of Congress can cure its defects and insure a thoroughly effective private ownership system of transportation.

Favors increased use of motor vehicle in transportation of mails and points out benefits of Federal Road Act of 1916.

Points to growth of Merchant Marine established by Democratic Administration.

Calls attention of failure of Republican platform to recognize rapid development of barge transportation on inland waterways and favors liberal policy for its development.

Points out benefits of Flood Control Act—Favors appropriations for continuations of reclamation of arid lands.

Indorses Federal Trade Commission. Deplores lavish use of money by aspirants for the Republican nomination for President.

By reference to a report published on our first page it will be seen that the special attorneys for the State, Gen. Jas. Garnett being one of the number, in the Bingham Inheritance Tax Suit, won a complete victory, over Gov. Morrow. The trial Judge was a Republican, and the jury was summoned by a Republican sheriff, and in less than twenty minutes after the case was given to the jury, it brought in a verdict for $125,000, the full amount sued for, a complete vindication of the justness of the claim of a set of attorneys, who fought for many months to get tax money, a large amount, justly due the State.

Col. Frank L. Ripy, Democratic candidate for Congress, was here Monday and he met many friends, as a large crowd was in town.

The Little Town School house.

I can even see it by memories glow—
The little town schoolhouse of long ago,
A little off from Glensfork creek
On whose banks for pleasure we did seek;
It was not fashioned of stone or brick,
Its wooden timbers were strong and thick.
Its stove which stood in the center of the floor,
Around which clustered a score or more,
Of lads and lasses with hands outspread;
When skies of winter were dull overhead.
It was huge ungainly and lacking grace;
But oh! What cheer in its shining face;
Those dear old black-boards around the wall;
With maps well covered familiar all,
To one who to-night would fain once more;
Live those bright days of her girlhood o'er.
How many years can I count since then?
It seems only a few while this I pen.
Yes, a few when I think of the dear young faces,
All gleaming with pleasure as they took their places.

Those dear old front benches where we did recite.
It seems I can see them tonight as I write.
Back, back, Oh! years you are crowding fast,
You mock with speed as you hurry past;
Our lessons all came hard some days;
But we got over them in different ways.
Some time the teacher's face wore an angry frown,
But I guess we were as tough ones as could be found.
The threads of silver may fleck my hair;
Each dear face to me will still be fair;
Fairer to me as the years go by,
And rose tints fade from the eastern sky;
The voices that whispered so soft and low,
In the little town school-house of long ago,
Were always ready with words of cheer,
Whenever clouds in the sky did appear;
The little town schoolhouse can still be seen;
Back from the creek on the hillside so green,
And I will always see it by memories glow,
But can never bring those days back from the long ago.
Well do I remember the last day I went,
And I will never forget the happy hours there spent.
No more for us that tuneful bell,
Shall call us to that door;
We will all never be there as we were in the long ago.
Our recitations all are passed and good ones too, you know,
But we will sing the praises long and loud,
Of the dear old long ago,
I love them all, I love them wherever they may be.
On land or sea, at home or abroad,
I hope they sometimes think of me.

A Visit To The Mountains.

On Saturday afternoon of June 5th, 1920, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Whitney, Mrs. C. E. Cofer and son and I left for Pineville, Bell County Ky. After traveling most of the night we reached our destination, and were joined by Mr. C. E. Cofer in his seven passenger Studebaker. After a swell breakfast at the Pineville Hotel, we started on our journey to see the surrounding country. We traveled most of the day seeing many beautiful sights in both Kentucky and Tennessee. We returned to Pineville Sunday night and heard a wonderful sermon preached by Rev. Kelley. Early Monday morning we started for Virginia, over Boones trail via. Middlesboro, Cumberland Gap, Jonesville, Pennington Gap and arrived at Big Stone Gap, Va., a distance of over a hundred miles, late in the afternoon where we put up for the night.

We stopped at each of the places above named, besides many others and made pictures. Early Tuesday morning we started for Black Mountain. About 8:30 o'clock we reached Pardee Va., a little town at the foot of the mountain. At this place we started walking. About ten o'clock we reached the summit of the mountain and after considering the matter, a part of us decided to undertake the trip to the other side and back. We did so, and about one o'clock we were again on the mountain top, where a nice dinner was awaiting us prepared on Mrs. Kofer's kitchenette. In a short while we were ready to continue our journey. We looked through a great coal mine, watched the train cars come and go over the mountain, gathered some wildflowers, made some more pictures and were soon ready to begin our trip back to Pardee. We went from Pardee to Norton Va. After supper we returned to Big Stone Gap, where we spent another night. Wednesday morning we started back to Pineville. This trip was about the same as going over. We saw many beautiful mountains. I don't believe the scenery could have been more beautiful.

We reached Pineville late in the afternoon and enjoyed a good nights rest at this place. Thursday morning we started for Harlan County, where we spent a day and night. We left Pineville Friday afternoon for home, arrived at Campbellsville Friday night, where we had another good nights rest. When Saturday morning came, we found lots to talk about until time to say goodbye. We started for home with glad hearts and pleasant memories of our trip to the mountains.

MOTHER SAW TRUTH AT ONCE

No Use Telling Her That Her Boy Had Made a Success in the World of Art.

He was a pianist, scarcely out of his teens. He had been sent abroad by wealthy friends for a four-years' course in his chosen art; had there, after spent a year on the concert stage, and behind 200 or 300 newspaper reports of his success abroad he was now coming home.

When his train drew into the station and came to a stop the pianist, evincing the artistic temperament in his hair as well as in his manner, descended to the platform. At the same time the crowd of enthusiastic townspeople drew aside to allow his proud mother to be the first to welcome her son.

When she reached him, however, she gave a gasp and stood stock-still staring at him. The next moment she burst into sobs and fell on his neck.

"Henry!" the good woman cried. "They told me you were doing so well over there and makin' money plentiful. My poor boy!"

"What's the matter, mother?" exclaimed the bewildered son. "What makes you doubt what they told you?" "Oh, Henry!" she cried, unappeased. "I can see how you've suffered. You haven't even been able to scrape enough money together to get your hair cut!"

DO BRUTES' SPIRITS RETURN?

Abundance of Testimony Seeming to Prove That Ghosts of Animals Have Been Seen.

With such quantities of spirits running around loose, why not a few representing departed animals?

There is plenty of testimony indorsing animal ghosts. In India there are ghost elephants and ghost tigers that haunt the jungle. And natives of that country are restrained from abusing animals by a belief that the phantom of any mistreated creature will surely come back to bring misfortune to the offender.

Andrew Lang quotes a well-known naval officer as speaking of an occasion when the latter was visiting at the country house of a friend and a well-known bark was heard outside the door of the room where the two men sat.

"Why, there's old Peter," said the officer. "Peter died since you were here last," replied his friend.

A fox terrier that was in the room whined and trembled violently. The door was pushed open and the pad-pad of a big dog's feet on the floor was heard. No dog was seen, but the invisible ghost of one walked to the hearthrug, shook itself and then flung itself heavily down, the jingle of its collar being distinctly audible.

A Whole League in Himself.

This puzzle in nationality has the marines guessing:

Louis C. Minette, accepted for enlistment in the United States marine corps at Tulsa, Okla., said that his mother was an American who married a Frenchman in Italy. He was born on a ship flying the Spanish colors while lying in the English channel. At the age of five his parents died in Sweden and he was adopted by a German who brought him to the United States. His adopted father is not a naturalized citizen.

"Would you class him as 'The Man Without a Country'?" the recruiting sergeant was asked.

"Man without a country nothing!" said the sergeant. "I'd class him as a League of Nations."

Feeding for Good Teeth.

The soon defective teeth of the adult are due in a great measure, according to an authority on dentistry, to the faulty kind of food given to children. Food which requires mastication tends to develop the gums and salivary glands, while the practice of giving too much liquid food causes narrow jaws, weakens the gums and mars physical beauty. The same authority continues: "Thin, small jaws consequent on liquid diet, do not furnish room enough to accommodate the teeth even were the blood supply sufficient—the teeth thus crowded failing to receive adequate nourishment—a most potent cause of defect in the enamel, and caries follows."

Gold and Religion.

Gold was used for most part as a useful metal; for decoration and ornament; but it was often associated with religious thought. According to the Inca belief, an egg of copper fell from heaven from which sprang the nobility; and after a longer period an egg of gold fell from which issued the Inca. Among the Choccos of Colombia, an important idol of gold was worshipped and slaves were sacrificed to it at certain seasons of the year. The idol represented a woman, who was once human and gave birth to a child who became the creator.—Exchange.

State Has Had Nine Capitals.

The first complete report made in connection with the Raleigh and Wake county community study shows that the state of North Carolina has had nine capitals as follows: Bath, Edenton, Brunswick, Wilmington, Newbern, Hillsboro, Smithfield, Fayetteville and Raleigh. The reason for so many lay in the custom, prior to 1791, of transferring the seat of government to the place of residence of the governor or to the temporary meeting place of the assembly.

INSPIRED BY LOVE

Remarkable Flag Made by Young American Girl.

Country's History, From the Birth of Independence, Woven Into Emblem in Honor of Heroes of Spanish-American War.

Peace unfurled a million flags throughout the world, but not one of them was as remarkable and romantic as that which Josephine Mulford wrought with her own hands a score of years ago in honor of the heroes of the Spanish-American war, observes London Answers.

The flag on which Josephine toiled night and day for more than a year with a great love to inspire her makers, is so large that three battalions of soldiers could be massed on it, and so heavy that half a dozen strong men could barely raise its folds from the ground.

But it is the romance of its fashioning that places it so far above all its rivals.

It was begun on the first day of July, 1898, in the parlor of an old homestead in New Jersey, and from the first stitch to the last it was never for a moment out of the hands or thoughts of the young girl who had set herself this patriotic task. Every stitch was counted as it was made; for it represented an American soldier who was fighting in Cuba.

The Pennsylvania star was partly made in the room in which, a century and a quarter earlier, Betsy Ross worked, under Washington's guidance, on the very first American flag which proclaimed the independence of the states and the star was finished in the room where the first continental congress met.

To make Virginia's star she traveled to Mount Vernon and stitched it in one of the rooms of Washington's home. The Maryland star was made at Fort McHenry, historically associated with "The Star-Spangled Banner" of Francis Scott Key, and New York's star was made partly in the very room in which Washington said good-by to his officers, and partly on board the flagship New York.

And thus, making as far as possible each stitch historic, the colossal task proceeded, until the last of the 325,000 stitches was made, with loving, if trembling, fingers, and she rose from her year's work triumphant, but shattered in health.

Josephine lived to see her flag proudly floating over Madison Square garden, to thunders of cheers from a hundred thousand throats. Then came a terrible reaction from the long strain, and within a few weeks the hands that had toiled so long and lovingly were still in death.

But the spirit of courageous love which Josephine Mulford breathed into her work lives on—for courage cannot die.

Health in Business.

A business man walked into a doctor's office the other day.

He looked in the pink of condition. "I want a thorough physical examination," he said.

The doctor accommodated him. Heart was sound, lungs were healthy, kidneys and all other organs functioning properly.

"You're the most splendid specimen I've seen in a long time," said the doctor.

"Thanks; I intend to remain so," said the client. "You shall go over me like this every six months. And I propose to have every man in a responsible position in my organization undergo a similar examination twice a year."

"A competing firm recently put a man into an important job who looked as well as I. He broke down, and in the demoralization of the firm's business that came with the breaking, our firm has taken over one of their biggest and best accounts. A condition of twenty years' standing, which he thought completely overcome, caused that man's breakdown."

"I don't propose that my firm shall suffer through any such experience."

Good, hard business applied to health. Doesn't good sense recommend to every man such prudence?

How many men can you recall who have discovered a serious state of health too late to mend?—Haverhill Gazette.

Gold Abundant in Siberia.

"Literally speaking, rivers in the Okhotsk district have golden bottoms," says a bulletin of the British bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. Three men working in a primitive fashion in the winter wash-out easily up to five fums (66 ounces troy) of gold a day. The Okhotsk deposits contain many nuggets. Nuggets weighing one-half fums are not rare. Last winter one zolotnik (0.137147 ounce troy) of gold cost 20 rubles; at the present time it costs 100 rubles. In spite of the rich deposits in this district, many concessions are not being exploited. A United States firm has explored the mine purchased from Stepanov, and is energetically preparing to work it.

Big Ranch of "King of Hawaii."

A $6,000,000 sugar ranch in the Hawaiian islands is about to come into the possession of a few American residents through the death of Col. Samuel Parker, an American who has been so intimately mixed up in Hawaiian affairs as to win the name of "the king of Hawaii." He belonged to the famous Parker family of Boston and located in Hawaii many years ago.

If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. ## MANY ROADS TO KNOWLEDGE

For Instance, Impudent Fake Resulted In Opening Up the Field of Electro-Therapy.

Along the road that leads to knowledge are scattered many fake-shops, which as a rule do a flourishing and profitable business. For the chief weakness of the human mind is credulity.

But by curious paradox, the foolishness factories every now and then produce something that proves of substantial usefulness to science.

For example, in New England many years ago a man named Perkins invented what he called a "magnetic tractor," for drawing diseases out of folk. It was shaped like a pair of compasses, with one leg of silver and the other of copper. When the two points were passed over the afflicted part of the body the instrument was supposed by some electrical means to alleviate or cure the trouble.

The "tractors" undoubtedly did benefit many people; also Perkins, who sold them for $5 apiece. They made such a sensation that scientists took the matter up, investigating it thoroughly and proving that imagination did the work. Blindfolded persons were relieved of pain by the contact of a couple of pointed sticks of wood, which they mistook for the instrument in question.

The whole business was plain foolishness. Nevertheless, the interest it awakened led to the first opening up of the field of electro-therapy, discoveries of which have proved of such immense importance to medical science.

WAS AHEAD OF HIS TIME

Peter Heulein, Who Made the First Watch, Accused of Witchcraft and Thrown Into Prison.

There is in existence today a letter dated April 22, 1527, from Martin Luther to Father Frederick Pistorius, the last abbot of St. Aegidius in Nuremberg, in which he thanks the abbot for the gift of a watch, and adds: "I feel compelled to become a pupil of our mathematicians in order to understand this unique timekeeper." Never before had he seen such an object.

As he was familiar with clocks, what he meant, evidently, was that the time indicators on the clock were different from those on the watch which had been given to him. It is quite probable he had in his possession the first watch made by Peter Heulein, or at least one of his first ones. This Peter Heulein was a blacksmith and locksmith and devoted his time to mathematics and watchmaking, for which he was thrown into prison charged with witchcraft, which was then one of the easy ways of disposing of a rival or of a person who did things out of the ordinary.

But Peter persevered, and the name of Heulein and Nuremberg is preserved by a monument in his native town.

New Bells Made Like Old.

We have often heard of the beautiful silver tone of very old church bells in Europe and some have even been bought at a great price and brought to America. It was supposed that after a bell had rung regularly for one or two centuries some mysterious quality was developed, and the beautiful tone could be acquired in no other way. An ingenious American studied the problem, however, and decided that the silver tone was simply due to the fact that the clapper of the bell had worn itself and the bell by continued striking, until the two fit closely together and that the shape of the metal and nothing else determined the tone. He began to make bells by casting them so that the clapper and the bell fit each other properly, and the mellow silver tone was obtained at once. Today we are manufacturing such bells and selling them abroad.—Boys' Life.

Worry Really Wicked.

Worry is really an evidence of lack of self-confidence and of faith in the power that runs the universe. It is a lack of faith in the power that, provided you do your part, will always bring things out better than you possibly could by yourself alone. Why should you worry, why should you fear, why should you be anxious, when God's vision and omnipotence are always ready to guide and serve you?

There never has been an instant in your life, my friend, which you could have safeguarded or provided for with a thousandth part of the wisdom with which God has guarded and provided for it. It is really a reflection upon him to be anxious about the future, to dread poverty and sickness, to worry about your business, to fear failure in your undertaking.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago News.

Fierce Apparitions.

In the West Indies a sight of the "rolling cal" presages death or terrible misfortunes. The negroes are dreadfully afraid of possible encounter with it at night. It is white, of enormous size and with eyes that blaze like hot coals.

William Thorp, a learned student of such manifestations, writes of a phantom shark that haunts the waters about Nassau, in the Bahamas, where it is known as the "harbor master." It shines with a weird phosphorescent glow even in the daytime, and though hooked on many occasions and pulled in, it invariably vanishes from the water.

GAIT VARIES WITH SPECIES

It May Truthfully Be Said That No Two Animals or Birds Walk Exactly Alike.

The horse strikes his gait with a cheerful, steady and strong step; the cow is uncertain in its moving, lolling and lagging in its gait. "The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea." The ass trudges, and keeps a dull eye on the earth as it journeys along. The sheep trots, and bleats as it passes, while the goat springs aloft almost heedless of its footing. The gait of birds on the level varies a great deal. There is a sort of majestic carriage in the rook, stepping over a crumbling furrow. The red-footed pigeon trips it daintily; the heron stands, as if to think, and moves with stateliness within its narrow bounds. The dog casts a careless foot, scattering dust or mud without thought; while the cat advances a dainty paw, as if distrustful of the ground. The hen scratches, and pauses to look round, as if bewildered; while the peacock lifts its foot with seeming pride, and as if the earth were honored by its moving upon it at all. The pig takes ground anyhow, and without heeding, turning about, careless whether right or wrong. The little mouse scurries across the common path with something of the passivity of a blown leaf; while the rat assumes the ground to be its own possession, and prowls about with confidence and unconcern. Of all animals the hare bounds upon the earth as upon its heritage, and breathes it the whole day long. As Wordsworth noted, the hare "runs races in its mirth."

LAMB THAT GREW ON TREE

According to the Talmud, Remarkable Plant Furnished Food for Our Very Remote Ancestors.

How often is the wish expressed that money grew on trees? Why not wish for lamb to grow that way, for according to the Latin translation of the Talmud of Jerusalem, that ancient book of law and customs, wonderfully tender and eatable lambs did grow on trees.

This work, remarks a writer in the New York Evening Sun, tells of a plant called the jeduah, which was formed like a lamb. From a bunch of rather coarse, thick leaves there issued steam on which the zoophyte grew, so the story goes. In every respect it was formed like an animal suspended on a stalk within the radius of which it grazed. It devoured all the herbage which it was able to reach within the circle of its tether, and then unless some overventurous animal came near enough for it to snatch the lamb would die of starvation.

Our remote ancestors hunted the lamb at great risk, for historians tell us that the lamb had not earned its reputation for gentleness then. It was extremely ferocious, especially if it had exhausted its provender. The only way to overcome it was to cut the stem by well-aimed darts or arrows sent from a safe distance. Once the stem was severed the animal fell to the earth soon to die, and the successful hunter could safely come forth to carry his game back to his cave home.

Slaves in 1756.

Slavery existed in nearly all of the English colonies from an early period until shortly before or soon after the Revolutionary war, and the African trade was openly tolerated by the British government. In 1756 there were 292,000 slaves in the colonies, scattered from New England to Georgia. Slavery was not prohibited in Massachusetts until 1780, nor in Vermont until 1777. The United States census of 1810 showed 310 slaves in Connecticut, 10,851 in New Jersey, 15,017 in New York, 795 in Pennsylvania and 108 in Rhode Island. Slavery was gradually abolished in the northern states, but in 1820 there were still 97 slaves in Connecticut, 7,557 in New Jersey, 10,808 in New York, 211 in Pennsylvania and 48 in Rhode Island. The census of 1850 showed the disappearance of slavery in all the northern states except in New Jersey, which still had 236.—Indianapolis News.

Immense Rubies.

An immense ruby, weighing 400 carats, is reported to have been found in Burmah, but it was broken into three pieces, and the report is that one of them was sold uncut in Calcutta for $233,333. A fine ruby, known as "Grogga Bok," or the Dragon Lord, weighed 45 carats in the rough, 22 carats after the cutting process, and was said to be the finest of its size ever seen. In 1887 a stone of 49 carats was found and in 1890 one of 304 carats, according to Bauer, who treats the discovery of the 400-carat stone previously mentioned as simply an unverified report.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"The Father of Jests."

"The Father of Jests" is Joseph Miller, an English comedian, who was born in 1684 and died at London in 1738. The collection of jests known as "Joe Miller's Jests" appeared originally in 1739 as "Joe Miller's Jest Book, Or the Wit's Vade Mecum, etc." It was made by John Motley and received its name unwarrantably from Joseph Miller. It was popularly said that Joe Miller never made up a joke in his life and could neither read nor write. Most stale jests are now known as a "Joe Miller" from the fact that it is supposed to have at some time emanated from this source.

ABUSE OF WILSON THE KEYNOTE.

(Elizabethtown News.)

Those who will take the trouble to read the speeches made in the Chicago Convention and the platform adopted, will find the keynote of the Republican party is abuse of Wilson. "Down with the President," is the slogan of the party. It is being shouted from coast to coast, and those who are most vehement in the denunciation, including Senator Lodge, have not one single good reason to base their hatred on except that Wilson is a Democrat.

When the President rose to the great emergency which confronted the Nation and the civilization of the world, the Republican party dammed him because he was so proficient in the hour of trial.

When he brought back from Europe the Peace Treaty, wrung by his masterful mind from the greatest statesmen of Europe to secure a permanent peace and to destroy forever the German Kultur, which threatened civilization, the Republican party damned him because he had not asked the counsel of its members.

When he lay sick in Washington, broken in health and nearly exhausted from his tremendous efforts for humanity, the Republican jackals damned him because he did not die, and circulate their deadly poisonous misrepresentations that he had lost his mind. The bitter words hurled at the emaciated and enfeebled President struggling back to health in the White House would have been treason if uttered two years ago, but are now rolled under their tongues as sweet morsels of political prejudice.

They have poisoned the very atmosphere with their foul aspersions of a patriotic President, whose achievements entitle him to rank with Washington and Lincoln, when they dared not have uttered them while our boys were charging through the Argonne forest and making the German power crumble to an abject surrender.

It is the right of every political party to criticize the acts of the other party and to point out the mistakes it has made.

But malignant abuse of the President never won an election and it will not win this one.

The achievements of Woodrow Wilson both in peace and in war stand out too gloriously upon the pages of history to be either belittled or be dimmed by misrepresentation, invective, abuse and calumny, such as is now being heaped upon him.

He is too great a man to stoop to notice the mudslingers, but sits quietly in his roller chair at the White House trusting to the fairness and justice of the American people, the great central figure in American life today, as he has been for nearly eight years.

His calumniators are both cowardly and contemptible, and the more they abuse Wilson the deeper will they sink themselves in their own filthy mire.

What "Best by Test" Means to The Housewife.

The value of any article can be judged only by a direct comparison of the same kind.

For instance—you may think some special brand of Baking Powder is best. That doesn't prove anything.
The only way you can be sure of Baking Powder superiority is by an actual test against all other brands.

It isn't necessary however that the housewife go to the trouble and expense of such an investigation herself.

Such tests have already been made —and made by experts in the value of Baking Powder.

Calumet Baking Powder received highest awards at the World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago—Paris Exposition, Paris, France. There can be but one answer to this—Calumet is best—by test—and best by the most exacting test it is possible to make.

Any housewife familiar with this fact can rest absolutely assured that when buying Calumet she is obtaining the best Baking Powder it is possible to manufacture.

Forty-five Masons were in attendance at Columbia Lodge, No. 96, last Master's degree—Ernest Harris and Finis Rosenbaum. On Thursday night following the same degree was conferred on Horace T. Walker. The membership is rapidly growing. The Master,

Bro. Gordon Montgomery, being about

W. A. Garnett, Master of Glenfork Lodge, favored Columbia lodge by conferring the third degree. It is good for brethren of different lodges ing a spirit of brotherly love, which shows that sister lodges are glad to see Columbia lodge prospering.

be cut out. Mr. A. A. Huddleston is here, looking after law violators.

Mrs. Geo. E. Wilson, Agent,
Columbia, Ky.

It may not be known to many in this day and time that many years ago there was a paper mill in Russell county located on Greasy Creek. It was fed by the rags that were gathered in the county and the paper was shipped by river to publications over the State. About that time there was a paper published at Creelsboro by Granville Wheat, whose home was in Columbia, a son of Mr. Milton P.
Wheat.

In the early settlement of this county the merchants of Columbia sold men and boy's hats manufactured here. There were two shops in the county, one operated by John Murrell at what is now known as Craycraft, and the other in Columbia. The merchants, as we learn from tradition, did not pay cash for the hats, but exchanged store goods for them.

Mrs. Leslie Gowdy, who was a very store her by her husband, who is the assistant cashier of the Taylor Co.

National Bank.

nicely.
